WANTED 1.7

MADRID TRAINS

Aquí tenéis otro Wanted, de nuevo dedicado a la escena nacional. Un nuevo número cargado de Graffiti Real, de ese que a la mínima puede hacer que acabes en la comisaría mas cercana.

Como entrante os ofrecemos, un especial de trenes de "Señor" en los que tanto la calidad como la cantidad hablan por si solas, acompañado de una pequeña vuelta por Alcorcón, un barrio que esta viendo como el graffiti resurge nuevamente en sus calles. De segundo un pequeño viaje a Alicante donde algo fuera de lo común esta sucediendo en los últimos meses y para postre una nueva sección de interrailers, para mostraros las vacaciones de los escritores españoles. Todo esto por supuesto acompañado de las secciones habituales.

Bueno os dejamos con este número de Wanted 1.7 que esperamos cubra vuestras expectativas como el resto de los números anteriores.

Here you have another "Wanted", once more dedicated to the national scene. A new act burdened of "Real Graffiti", which can get you into big trouble.

As starter we offer our "Trenes de Señor" where both, quality and quantity speaks by themselves. It comes served with a small glimpse of Alcorcón, a district that is seeing how the graffitti is resurging once more.

For the main dish we have a small trip to Alicante, where weird things are happening. Finally the dessert: a new section of "interrailers", where you'll have the chance to see Spanish writers on holiday mood. Of course all dishes are garnished with the habitual sections.

Ok, we leave you with this act from "Wanted 1.7" hopping that it will cover all your expectations as it happened with previous ones.

ALCORCON

BACK TO STREETS

Uno de los barrios mas admirados desde siempre por su escena y que hace 5 años vimos caer mediante una fuerte campaña antigraffiti, que consiguió frenar todos los intentos de conservar el graffiti en sus calles. 5 años después y tras un cambio de gobierno, Los escritores más activos se han vuelto a lanzar las calles para recuperar un terreno que siempre ha sido suyo. La respuesta por parte de las nuevas generaciones de la zona no se ha hecho esperar y el resultado es plenamente visible con solo dar una vuelta por sus calles: Colores, platas, throw ups y tag´s inundan la ciudad, haciéndonos recordar el barrio que un día conocimos. A su vez han organizado nuevamente exposiciones y jams en sus calles. Esperemos que esta situación dure y se vaya transmitiendo a otros barrios como Móstoles que los últimos años esta sufriendo una fuerte represión como la que sufrieron los escritores de este municipio.

ALCORCÓN BACK TO STREETS

One astonishing district that 5 years ago felt by means of a strong campaign antigraffitti, was able to restrain all the attempts to conserve the graffitti in the streets. 5 years later, and after a change of government, active writers tried to recover this land that always belonged to them. There was not delay from new generations of writers to find answers to this, and the result is absolutely visible while walking the streets, contemplating colors and silvers, throw ups and tagsflood the city, recalling a familiar district. Writers have been organizing street exhibitions and jams once again. Let us hope that this situation lasts and it is followed by people in other districts like Móstoles that the last years has being suffering from a strong repression like the one underwent by writers of this municipality.

CRIMEN

EN LEVANTE PART I

Algo sorpréndete esta pasando en la línea Alicante-Denia, desde hace unos meses y por razones desconocidas, se ha suspendido la limpieza de trenes, algo anecdótico en España. Como supondréis el graffiti se empieza a adueñar de la linea y los escritores de la zona estan gozando con la situación, que nos recuerda a otras ciudades europeas; piezas rulando durante meses y wholecars circulando con las ventanas borradas, un espectáculo digno de contemplar. ¡Los paneles están contados!.

Something amazing is happening in the Alicante-Denia line. During the last months, and for unknown reasons, the line was out of service due to trains cleaning, something anecdotal in Spain, as you imagined, the graffitti is gradually taking the line and writers are enjoying this situation. This makes us recall other European cities; pieces "rulando" during months and "wholecars" circulating with clean windows, a spectacle worthy to contemplate. The panels are counted!

SAMPAYO & RUBIO AD 2004 FOTO: MIQUEL BADIA

En 1997 Montana Colors inventa el "donut" para identificar el color de la pintura de los sprays Hardcore para Graffiti.

Al tratarse de una pequeña empresa solo puede costear una patente para España, país de la invención.

No pasarán mas de 3 años para que esta pieza sea imitada por otras empresas de pintura en spray.

....siempre es mejor ser copiados que tener que copiar.
